

End User License Agreement for AFLFP Database

This user agreement applies to the AFLFP database. To obtain a copy of the database, please complete the following agreement. The recipient of this database must be a full-time faculty researcher or employee of an organization (not a student). By signing this agreement, the user, he/she who will make use of the database, agrees to the following terms:

- Not to use the database for any commercial purposes. You agree not to reproduce, duplicate, sell, trade, resell or exploit for any commercial purposes, any portion of the images and any portion of derived data.
- You agree not to further copy, publish or distribute any portion of the database, with the exception of using the data for the academic purpose of analysis and presenting results in any publications.
- To cite the following paper in any publications of yours or your collaborators that makes any use of the database:
  - Y. Xia, C. Nduka, R. Yap Kannan, E. Pescarini, J. Enrique Berner and H. Yu, "AFLFP: A Database with Annotated Facial Landmarks for Facial Palsy," IEEE Transactions on Computational Social Systems, vol. 10, no. 4, pp. 1975-1985, 2023.
- Publications include not only papers, but also presentations for conferences or educational purposes, print, electronic, or other media.
- We reserve the right to terminate your access to the database at any time.
